RE: Docket No. USCIS-2006-0044: Proposed Fee Increase

Dear Director,

The Asian Law Caucus is the nation's oldest legal and civil rights organization serving low-income Asian Pacific American (APA) communities. Founded in 1972, the Caucus provides free legal representation to hundreds of low-income clients each year in the areas of immigration and naturalization, among others.

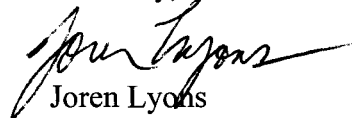

We are writing in response to the unprecedented, massive proposed fee increase for immigration and citizenship applications. While fees of course must be adjusted from time to time, the scope of this proposed increase is completely out of scale.

Moreover, the elimination of fee waivers for most applications will create undue hardship, particularly for vulnerable applicants such as battered spouses and children, and asylees. While we applaud the elimination of fees for the I-360 (Battered Spouse Self-Petition) and the continuing policy of not charging a fee for Form I-589 (Asylum Application), we question the sense of eliminating fee waivers across the board for Form I-485. The complete elimination of access to a fee waiver for the I-485 will put permanent resident status out of reach for the very people you claim to be trying to help: survivors of domestic violence and persecution. We urge you to continue the current policy of allowing fee waiver requests to be evaluated on a case-by-case basis for most applications.

We further urge you to reconsider the scale of the fee increase, and to consider requesting supplemental appropriations from Congress if you feel that operating expenses are so far above revenue. Fees should be increased only as a last resort once Congress has spoken on an appropriations request.

Thank you for your consideration.

Sincerely,

Joren Lyons
