Emilio Gonzalez
USCIS Director

Dear Emilio Gonzalez:

U.S. Citizenship and Immigration Services plans to raise the costs of applying for American citizenship beyond the reach of many recent immigrants. IF SOMEONE HAS DONE EVERYTHING REQUIRED TO ACHIEVE CITIZENSHIP, THEY SHOULDN'T HAVE TO BE RICH TO AFFORD THE DAMN FEES! $325 to $350, maybe, but $325 to $905. Ridiculous!

During the past 12 years, the application costs have risen 400 percent. USCIS has proposed raising the cost of a green card from $325 to $905, a citizenship application from $330 to $595 and fingerprinting from $70 to $80.

USCIS is one of the few government agencies that operates primarily on user fees, yet it plans to put an additional burden on people already working as hard as possible to become lawful U.S. citizens. Naturalization for a family of four would rise to $2,430.

Congress should appropriate the funds necessary to allow thousands of hard-working immigrants to gain citizenship at a cost they can afford and USCIS should absolutely not enact these dramatic increases.

Sincerely,

Lynn Alldrin
