I am commenting on the benefit application fee schedule adjustment. I do not think that these fees should be increased. As a perspective adoptive parent of a child through intercountry adoption, I find the increase in fees to be excessive. Often times we must pay for the renewal of our I-600a/I171h twice before we are able to adopt our child. This becomes burdensome! I don't think that any fees should be increased. If we want people to follow the rules to become citizens of the United States, the costs can prohibit following this protocol and people are more apt to be illegal. I do not think that any of the costs should be increased.
