To whom it may concern,

I am writing in regard to the proposal to raise fees and how this will affect prospective adoptive parents.

My husband and I are currently in the beginning stages of adoption and are trying to plan financially. As you may well be aware, adoption is extremely expensive.

All we want is a family without suffering financially more than is necessary with this process. Please consider the people who will be affected by this. We have already been punished by infertility. As wonderful as adoption is, for many even the slightest amount can make or break them. Please don't raise these fees.

Thank you.
