Subject: docket number (USCIS-2006-0044)

As i read the article of Building an Immigration Service for the Twenty-First Century, I realized all the information supplied as regards processing filed application tends to refer to U.S. Citizens only. My main concern is the I-130 Pertition for Alien Relative. The website states that the current proccessing period is 6 months and goes on to state that going forward with the increase in filling fees it will be shortened. I'm sure this was regards to only U.S.Citizens.

How about permanent residents? right now it takes a very longtime, i have heard it takes about 5 years. Does the "whole new Twenty-First Century USCIS" NOT cater for permanent residence filling for relatives?

Your faithfully
