

From: Sergio Mtz [mailto:semartinez@hotmail.com]
Sent: Thursday, February 01, 2007 11:39 AM
To: OSComments
Subject: USCIS-2006-0044

Increasing costs by 100% is unreasonable. For a typical process it currently costs $765 - $800, with the new increment it will now cost over $1600..

What would the benefits of increasing costs by this much be? (2 months less than actual)

I'm certain that if USCIS asks petitioners that they could save 66% of their cost if they wait 2 - 3 months petitioner will agree to wait..

It would be nice if USCIS could provide a detail report of how this extra increase is going to be used. With figures and detailed information of how this extra increase is going to be deployed.

What are the goals of a 21 Century USCIS (Describe in detail)

When should the public start noticing the change (eliminating backlogs, faster service, efficiency etc)

Sergio Mtz