Subject: New proposed Fees

This new fees are not affordable for many immigrants. I understand it is worth it, but I will say, if this new fee level will be approved, the number of some applications will drop drastically, for example Form I -130. As a new American citizen, me and my wife petitioned for our parents and some of brothers & sisters, but if we had to pay for new proposed Fees, it would have been impossible financially to afford it. Do not forget most of people who wants to come in USA are from the poor countries. So, I like to say the workload of applications will be smaller, and i am afraid the budget will remain the same.

For some applications it is worth it to pay more money. like N-400, I-485.

Thanks
