Subject: Fee increase for K1 visas

As someone currently in the process of obtaining for my fiance, I am against a fee increase. Between form fees, medical, processing fees, AOS, etc, the fees are already very expensive. However, if a fee increase would speed up the process significantly at the California Service Center (perhaps to the speed of the Vermont Service Center) then I'm sure people wouldn't mind so much. However, no one wants to pay an extra couple hundred dollars to move at the same speed.
