To whom it may concern,

I just read that the fees for some of the required paperwork for adopted children may be increasing soon. Having 3 adopted children myself, the current fees for the COC, and all other fees that were paid to adopt are high enough.

I think this is so unfair. I understand that costs should be increased to accommodate rising costs but please be sensitive to the families who already pay 25,000 and higher to become a parent to an adopted child.

Thank you

Kind Regards,
